You must also promise to comply with the requirements for licensing immediately upon obtaining the commission. NOTE: AANB has two (2) tier licensing. You must obtain a License for yourself (individual) and a Certificate of Practice (individual or business) to offer or provide architectural services to the public in New Brunswick.

An Application for Certificate of Practice should be submitted together with the Application for License.

Providing architectural services before getting your License and Certificate of Practice may make you ineligible to practice in New Brunswick.

Upon submission of an application, the applicant permits the AANB to collect, use, retain and disclose personal information collected in the course of its regulatory activities. This will be done in full compliance with Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents legislation.

MOBILITY OF ARCHITECTS TO NEW BRUNSWICK

Architectural services in New Brunswick can only be provided by an Architect licensed by the AANB and the holder of a Certificate of Practice approved by the association.

COMMISSIONS

You must also promise to comply with the requirements for licensing immediately upon obtaining the commission. This avoids the perception that you are trying to practice architecture without a License and Certificate of Practice in New Brunswick.

COLLABORATION AND TEMPORARY LICENCES

As an alternative to the process of licensure as an Architect and issuance of a Certificate of Practice, or in the case of an Architect who is licensed in a jurisdiction which does not have reciprocity with the AANB, the process of Temporary License and Certificate of Practice is available for the purpose of providing architectural services on a specific project. This option requires collaboration with an AANB architect/certificate of practice holder.
